

RUMAH WHAMPOA EATS

ELDERS AND TEENS SHARING

Cooking with Auntie
Katie

Students:

Reshmi
Aqil
Hong Rui

Auntie Katie

It is really heartwarming to see Auntie Katie cook a dish specially for her family. She learnt the dish from her mother-in-law so that she could cook it for her husband. This gesture not only bridged ties but the dish also brought her family closer.

She also mentioned she added more flavours to the dish. This implies her own creativity into making the dish. She prepares the dish to the likings of her family too. She shows a lot of love and care towards her family as she attempts to improve the dish so that her husband and children can have a hearty meal. We learnt that it only takes a simple act to show love and care for our family members.

We also learnt about the transformation in their lives as Singapore developed. Her story was easily relatable with the other elders and she made us realise how we should not take anything for granted.

Left to right:
Hong Rui, Auntie Katie, Reshmi, Aqil