Speaker Profile

Susana Concordo Harding

Susana Harding is the Director of the International Longevity Centre Singapore, an initiative of the Tsao Foundation – a Singapore based but regionally oriented not-for profit operational foundation dedicated to aged care and ageing issues. Susana provides overall direction and leadership to the foundation’s research and policy advocacy initiatives and she develops new programmes that support active ageing and enhance our elders’ participation in the community.

Susana has been working with the Tsao Foundation for 13 years and prior to this, she had 15 years of experience in community development and non-profit sector. She graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Economics (Cum Laude) from University of Santo Tomas, Philippines and a Master in Public Administration from the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy at the National University of Singapore.
